PROMOTE GENDER EQUALITY AND EMPOWER WOMEN

TARGETS:

- 1. Halving, by 2015, the proportion of women as unpaid family workers and reducing their inactivity rate by one third;*
- 2. Doubling the proportion of women in governance*

STATUS OF PROGRESS:

Progress towards Target 1 of the MDG has been problematic. The activity and employment rates among women have increased only slightly compared to the baseline situation. At the present development rate, the planned result cannot be achieved. The proportion of women in the economically inactive population is growing, while the proportion of women in the category of employed persons has slightly decreased. Efforts to increase the proportion of women in governance were effective. This supports the assumption that it will be possible to achieve the target. The number of women in Parliament and in the municipal councils has doubled or tripled compared to the period before 2005. However, the number of women in ministerial and mayor positions is still unsatisfactory.
